

Baby, it's cold outside.

BUT DOES IT HAVE TO BE SO EMBARRASSING?

There are more practical ways to keep me safe and warm this winter.

1. First off, keep me inside! I'm happiest when I can curl up with you. So is the cat. He HATES being cold.
2. If we're going to go romp in the snow a lot, make sure I get enough food and water. Keeping warm burns more of my energy. (And I need my energy to cope with the cat.)
3. When you take me out for a walk, clean up my paws with a damp towel afterward. Snow clumps and that salty stuff that melts ice gets into my pads and irritates them.
4. Don't let me eat any antifreeze. That blue stuff tastes awesome to me, but it's super poisonous.
5. Finally, can you consider another color for my couture? Pink makes me look fat.
